Embrace a Legacy of Sustainability with Setas Eternal Living

At Setas Eternal Living, we are dedicated to providing eco-friendly end-of-life solutions honor both the departed and the environment. MyCoffins are meticulously crafted to ensure a sustainable and respectful return to nature.

Why Choose Setas Eternal Living?

Environmental Impact: Our products are designed to be carbon-negative, sequestering more carbon than they emit, and supporting the regeneration of the earth.

Natural Decomposition: Using biodegradable materials ensures the body is returned to the earth, naturally, enriching the soil and promoting new growth within two and a half years.

Peace of Mind: By choosing MyCoffin, you contribute to a healthier planet while providing a dignified and honorable farewell for your loved one.

Our Commitment to You

We are dedicated to positively impacting the environment while providing compassionate support to families. We're here to answer your questions and guide you in choosing the perfect eco-friendly burial.

Why Choose MyCoffin?

Eco-Friendly: Unlike traditional coffins can take decades or even centuries to decompose, our mycelium-based MyCoffin biodegrades in just a few years, returning nutrients to the soil.

Sustainable: Made from natural materials and “Three Leaf Certified” by the Green Burial Council, MyCoffin is a zero-waste and carbon negative solution, promoting a sustainable, circular, and enriching economy.

Legacy of Life: By opting for a MyCoffin, you're not just being buried; you're becoming a part of a new life cycle, fostering new growth and supporting biodiversity.

Customizable Options: Personalize your final resting place with a variety of customization options, including size, shape, and decorative features, ensuring your legacy reflects your unique personality and values.
